1 Corinthians 1:1-3

... called to be holy, with all those everywhere who call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. (1 Corinthians 1:2)

At the beginning of his first letter to the Corinthians, St. Paul says that he was "called to be an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God" (1 Corinthians 1:1). That calling changed him and reoriented his life. Then he goes on to tell the Corinthians that God had called them, too - to be holy, with everyone else who calls upon the name of Jesus (1:2). Through Baptism, they had been called to see and love each other as fellow members of Christ's body.

This was an important reminder for the Corinthians because Paul goes on to tackle some problems he has heard about in their community, starting with factionalism and disunity. Paul urges them, in light of their calling, "that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and in the same purpose" (1 Corinthians 1:10). God had called them to be part of His own family, and that meant allowing Him to uproot any selfishness or pride that would give rise to prejudices, divisions, and other barriers between them.

Today we begin the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, and this year's theme comes from Ephesians 4:4: "There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope of your calling." That might remind you of today's first reading. We are called, and that calling changes us. It's meant to lead us to unity with everyone who belongs to Jesus. It's meant to urge us to love each other to the point that we're united.

So how do we start? A first step is to let Jesus help you see and love other Christians as fellow members of His body. So, for the rest of this week, join believers around the world in praying the daily prayers for unity.

"Lord, make us one in You!"

Isaiah 49:3, 5-6

Psalms 40:2, 4, 7-10

John 1:29-34

The ecumenical celebration offers a unique occasion to reflect upon and rejoice in the common faith shared by all Christians.
